About A&G Entertainment Productions:

A&G Entertainment Productions (AGEP) is a production house that brings entertainment professionals on the West coast into a new era of innovation. Not only does AGEP create live showcases like "Shine-On," along with its' corresponding singing contest, "Bring-It-On" we also specialized in creating live, Broadway and Las Vegas styled shows, that will be moving all across America.

About Hope 4 Children Foundation:

Is a nonprofit organization that aims to empower disadvantaged youth and communities by providing them with learning opportunities that will improve their quality of life. Based in Glendale, California, they exist to help underprivileged children and communities within the Los Angeles area as well as in third world countries get started on the path to a better future. Their mission, which is to "Help Others Prosper through Education," takes form in a spectrum of ways, from arts education in the inner city schools program to their in-service workshops for educators. They collect supplies (clothes, medicine, toys, etc.) and educational materials, provide scholarships to well-deserving students, link Los Angeles to beneficiary schools in third world countries, conduct public discussion groups, lectures and workshops on the value of education, arts and after-school programs for the global and local community.
